Evan:

Unfortunate news: David Witherow, who has done so well as head of the BBC Monitoring Service, is being moved upstairs in the BBC hierarchy. There is still a possibility he will be there for your visit in June; your visit should not be affected in any case. Of more concern is our annual FBIS meeting with BBC scheduled for 29-31 May. I want to keep the pressure on to have that meeting in any case. Background is in the attached cables.
